Volker A Greimann: (09:38) ok

Edmon: (09:40) Is there any reason why the plan should not/ was not put out for a formal public comment period? Just curious... perhaps to avoid any anticipation of a second round or timelines?...

Edmon: (09:51) Its a very good development (that GDD Is involved as policies are being finalized). Perhaps given that involvement, in the future GNSO Policy documents could even include a set of implementation notes which allows things to be better tied together (...maybe That already being discussed in the policy vs implmementation WG).

LizW: (10:03) And just remember that this isn't the "second" round...we've had domain name expansions in 2000, 2004 and 2012. This Is nothing new now and we need to expedite correctly and soon.

Lars Hoffmann: (10:07) The GDD Update has just concluded and we are now moving to the presentation from Theresa Swinehart.

Edmon:(10:12) Liz brings up a good point, and I very much agree with avri on the importance of not preempting the reviews to say that nothing went wrong with this round... but perhaps the 2004 round, which is essentially an extension round of the 2000 one might be a model we can try to consider again in response to James' comment and also the comment on city/geo tlds etc.

Edmon: (10:33) @steve your hypothetical issue sounds like items on IDN and universal acceptance of it :---D

Lars Hoffmann: (10:41) The update with Theresa has just concluded --- next up Fadi Chehadé

Lars Hoffmann: (10:48) Update with Fadi just starting now.
